Professional Tennis Player · ATP No. 492 · Athens, Greece

SUPPORT PROPOSAL

My name is Aristotelis Thanos, and I am a professional tennis player based in Athens, Greece, currently ranked ATP No. 492 in the world, with a career-high ranking of No. 433.

I began my competitive journey playing collegiate tennis at Michigan State University, an experience that shaped me not only as an athlete but as a disciplined and driven individual. With my time there complete, I have committed myself fully to pursuing a professional career and competing internationally at the highest level.

Over the past several years, I have won professional tournaments and competed against top-ranked players around the world. These experiences have only deepened my conviction that my goals are within reach. My primary goal is to qualify for and compete in a Grand Slam tournament within the next 24 months, and I have the level, the work ethic, and the determination to make it happen.

The reality of professional tennis, however, is that travel, coaching, training, recovery, and tournament expenses create a substantial financial burden, particularly at this stage of a player's career. For this reason, I am reaching out to explore the possibility of your support. Whether through direct sponsorship, a financial contribution, or an introduction to someone in your network who may be interested in backing an emerging professional athlete, any form of involvement would make a meaningful and direct impact on my journey.

I bring to any partnership not only competitive results, but professionalism, visibility across international tournaments, and a genuine commitment to representing my supporters with pride both on and off the court.

Thank you sincerely for your time and consideration. I would welcome the opportunity to speak further and share more about my career and goals.

With gratitude,

Aristotelis Thanos
